

EARLY DETECTION OF DIABETES

"Between the time you wake up this morning and the time you wake up tomorrow morning, there are going to be 2,000 people diagnosed with diabetes. There will be 150 amputations, about 70 people who go blind from diabetes, and approximately 75 people who enter end-stage disease programs because of diabetes."

(Frank Vinicor, MD, MPH, Director of the Division of Diabetes Translation, CDC)
